Program

SYMPOSIUM & ROUNDTABLE: SUNDAY, OCTOBER 28TH (AFTERNOON)

Future Strategies in Drug Development and Prescribing

Co-Chairs: Ian Gould, MB; Christopher Spivey, MCom

Co-sponsored by the International Society for Chemotherapy (ISC) and the Alliance for the Prudent Use of Antibiotics (APUA)

- Steven J. Projan, PhD, Biological Technologies, Wyeth Research — “How can we control antibiotic resistance when we don’t understand it?”
- Dominique L. Monnet, PharmD, PhD, Statens Serum Institut, Denmark — “Encouraging development of new antibacterials while preserving the old”
- Robert C. Moellering, MD, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Harvard Medical School — “New concepts of anti-infective therapy”
- Ursula Theuretzbacher, PhD, Center for Anti-Infective Agents — “Antimicrobials in the future”

Panel Discussion

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29TH (MORNING) PLENARY SESSION

Drug Policy and Economic Burden

Session Chair: Stuart B. Levy, MD

- Susan Foster, PhD, Director of Public Policy and Education, Alliance for the Prudent Use of Antibiotics; Professor of International Health, Boston University School of Public Health — “The economic burden of antibiotic resistance in the United States”
- Melvin P. Weinstein, MD, Professor of Medicine and Pathology, Chief, Division of Allergy, Immunology & Infectious Disease, Robert Wood Johnson Medical School — “Establishing breakpoints for antimicrobial susceptibility testing: Methods and controversies”
- Eddie Power, PhD, Head of Anti-Infectives/Virology, Global Medical Affairs, Schering-Plough — “Impact of antibiotic restrictions: The pharmaceutical perspective”
- Solomon Nwaka, PhD, Scientist, Manager, Genomics and Discovery Research, Special Programme for Research in Tropical Diseases, World Health Organization — “Identifying drug targets and research priorities”
- Sheila Smith, MA, Economist, National Health Statistics Group of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services — “Health system in flux; Looking ahead to the coming decade”
- Ramanan Laxminarayan, PhD, MPH, Visiting Scholar, Princeton University, Resources for the Future — “Extending the Cure”

Panel Discussion

Lunch

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29TH (AFTERNOON) TWO SIMULTANEOUS TRACKS

Diagnostics

Session Chair: Mark Perkins, MD

- Helen H. Lee, PhD, Associate Professor of Medical Biotechnology and Head of Diagnostics Developmental Unit, University of Cambridge, UK — “Developing diagnostics for the real world”
- Carl Fuller, PhD, Vice President and Science Fellow, GE Healthcare
- Mark Perkins, MD, Chief Scientific Officer, Foundation for Innovative New Diagnostics — “Diagnostics for resource poor settings”
- David Gorenstein, PhD, Professor, Charles Marc Pomerat Distinguished Professor of Biological Sciences, Associate Dean of Research, University of Texas Medical Branch — “In vitro thioaptamer selection and bead-based thioaptamer selection techniques for diagnostics in infectious diseases”
- Ralph Timperi, MPH, Senior Advisor, Laboratory Practice and Management, Director Global health Programs, Association of American Public Health Laboratories

Panel Discussion

Exhibitors:

With around 500 expected attendees this event is a wonderful opportunity to showcase your company’s new products and services. The 2nd World Congress Reception, conference sessions, and workgroup meetings will be located in the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Boston. APUA is able to offer 30 exhibit spaces at 100 square feet. With the exception of sponsors, exhibit spaces will be sold as orders are received and until they are sold out. Each space for the 2nd World Congress will cost 2,500 USD. For more information, please contact Karrie-Ann.Toews@tufts.edu.

Program

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29TH (AFTERNOON) TWO SIMULTANEOUS TRACKS

Infection Control

Session Chair: Ian Gould, PhD

- Roberta Carey, PhD, Branch Chief of Epidemiology, CDC — “Multi-drug resistant organisms: How do we define them, how do we stop them?”
- Janet Hindler, MCLS, MT(ASCP), UCLA Medical Center — “Educating clinical and public health laboratorians to deal with antimicrobial resistance challenges”
- Dan Ford, PhD, Senior Researcher, IBM — “Spatio-temporal epidemiological modeler (STEM) and global infection control”
- Stephen M. Brecher, PhD, Director of Microbiology, VA Boston Healthcare System — “Addressing the challenge of C. difficile”
- Ian Gould, MB, FRCPE, Consultant Microbiologist, Aberdeen Royal Infirmary, UK — “Antibiotic policies to control MRSA— Why not?”

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30TH (MORNING) TWO SIMULTANEOUS TRACKS

Biodefense

Session Chair: Sally Hojvat, PhD

- Carol D. Linden, PhD, Principal Deputy and Acting Director of Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority (BARDA), Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, Department of Health and Human Services — “Public health emergency countermeasures”
- Sally Hojvat, PhD, Director, Division of Microbiology Devices, Office of In-vitro Diagnostic Device Evaluation and Safety, CDRH, FDA — “Regulating diagnostic devices for emerging pathogens and biothreat agents”
- Jean D. Reed, MS, Special Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Chemical and Biological Defense and Chemical Demilitarization Programs — “Developing capabilities in support of national strategies”

Panel Discussion

Immunomodulation

Session Chair: Arturo Casadevall, MD, PhD

- Arturo Casadevall, MD, PhD, Leo and Julia Forchheimer Professor of Microbiology and Immunology, Professor, Department of Medicine (Infectious Disease), Albert Einstein College of Medicine — “Understanding the pathogenesis of infectious diseases: The damage-response framework”
- Richard Ulevitch, PhD, Chair, Department of Immunology, The Scripps Research Institute — “Systems biology, innate immunity and infectious disease”
- Mary O’Riordan, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Microbiology and Immunology, University of Michigan Medical School — “TBK1 protects vascular integrity during intracellular bacterial invasion”
- Christine A. Biron, PhD, Brintzenhoff Professor of Medical Sciences, Department of Molecular Microbiology & Immunology, Brown University — “Modulating immune cell responsiveness to stimulatory pathways”

Panel Discussion

Lunch

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30TH (AFTERNOON) PLENARY SESSION

Drug Innovation and Development

Session Chair: Jon Clardy, PhD

- Thomas Evans, MD, Global Head of Infectious Disease, Novartis Institutes for Biomedical Research— “Collaboration and innovation in drug development”
- Stefan Willemsen, PhD, Head of Roche Applied Science Partnering, Roche Diagnostics, Switzerland — “Role of partnering in life science industry”
- Jon Clardy, PhD, Professor, Department of Biological Chemistry and Molecular Pharmacology, Harvard Medical School — “Genome sequencing, cryptic pathways and ecology: Antibiotic drug discovery at HMS and the Broad Institute”
- Robert E. Yocher, RAC, MHSc, Vice President of Regulatory Affairs and Corporate Quality Compliance, Genzyme Corporation — “Co-development of diagnostics and drugs”
- Patrick S. Doyle, PhD, Doherty Associate Professor of Chemical Engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology — “Multifunctional encoded particles for high-throughput biomolecule analysis”
